FIELD MANAGEMENT

FIELD GROUP ORGANISATION

BELIEVE, BELONG, ACHIEVE TOGETHER

SCENARIO 1

- Pole Vault – Athlete took off, cleared the bar, landed on the mat but his pole was left leaning on the bar. Very unusual but do officials know what then needs to happen?
- Rule 28.2.1 Green text (a)

SCENARIO 2

- Pole Vault – Recently at a televised competition, Holly Bradshaw vaulted and cleared the bar and while doing so she moved one hand to the top of the pole as she cleared the bar. The vault was allowed. Was this correct?
- Rule 28.2.3

SCENARIO 3

- Long / Triple Jump – Athlete competing in the senior Long Jump completes three rounds and qualifies for a further three trials and the order is reversed. Athlete goes to the 60m and competes in a sprint semi-final, comes back to the Long Jump and competition still in round 4. Does he get his round 4 jump? On this occasion he didn't as the official told him that the rules did not allow him to get a 4th round jump as he wasn't available when his name was called and the order had been reversed.
- This is a World Athletics rule to prevent athletes playing mind games not really for scottishathletics events where many athletes compete in more than one event.
- Possible confusion with rule 26.2
- Rule 25.5 UKA S2: Judges have the power to alter the order of competition

SCENARIO 4

- High Jump – this happened twice at two separate indoor meetings and two different decisions were given. Athlete attempts height and in doing so slightly touches the bar, it remains in place but when landing on the mat one side of the upright moves so the bar is now slightly lower at one end than the other. What decision is awarded?
- At one event the athlete was given the clearance while at the other event the athlete was given a re-trial.
- Rule 27.2.1

GENERAL DISCUSSION

The floor (window) is now open for general discussion on anything anyone wants to ask about rule clarification or practical field judging
