Become an official with scottishathletics

Volunteers lie at the heart of our sport, with Officials an integral part of the volunteer workforce.

If you would like to become an official, browse the Courses for Officials page via the menu on the left. In order to officiate, you should complete an Assistant Official's Award or Level 1 course, though you can become a (non-officiating) volunteer at athletics events without these qualifications. If you'd like more information about how to get started, contact Shona Malcolm.

We work in partnership with local authorities, athletics clubs, sportsScotland and the Officials Commission to deliver a number of opportunities for volunteers to train as technical officials.
